Rental Agreement

AGREEMENT ON TERMS AND CONDITIONS FOR CAR RENTAL

1 INTRODUCTION

The following constitutes an agreement on the rental of a car between Prime Norge AS (hereinafter "Broker") and the customer (hereinafter "renter") who wishes to rent a car from the Broker.

By signing this agreement, the parties understand that the terms, rights and obligations set out in the agreement are binding on the parties.

The agreement is signed digitally via BankID where possible.

The renter understands that the broker does not own the vehicle, and that the broker thus acts as an intermediary between the owner and the renter. The broker is therefore free of liability and not liable for damages for financial or non-financial losses that directly or indirectly result from this agreement for the owner and the renter in relation to each other.

The parties are independent of each other. No party can bind itself in the name of the other party or on behalf of the other party, and [this agreement] can thus under no circumstances be transferred from a party to this agreement to a third party.

2 REQUIREMENTS FOR THE RENTER

2.1 Driver's licence.

The renter is obliged to have a valid driver's licence that can be used in Norway. The minimum age for renting a car is stated in the rental contract. A valid driver's licence must be presented.

Only the person who has presented a valid driver's licence is and must be the main driver of the vehicle. It may be agreed to have several drivers; this must be agreed in advance in each case.

2.1 Payment

The renter must have a valid means of payment at the time of booking and until the rental is concluded.

A renter without a credit agreement must pay a deposit when picking up the car. All deposits are made by the broker reserving the rental amount plus a deposit (minimum NOK 2,000) on the renter's credit card. The reserved amount remains in the renter's account at all times, but it is not available to the renter. Due to automatic updating of toll passages from the electronic toll passage companies, the contract is not settled until 3-10 days have passed after return. After the broker has deducted the rental amount, any toll passages and fuel, the rest of the deposit will be released. The released amount is normally available to the renter within 3-10 working days after settlement. Please note that the broker accepts credit cards as payment. In some cases, debit cards with Visa and Mastercard are also accepted.

It is a condition for rental that the renter has not defaulted on payments, or refused payment in accordance with his/her obligations under a previous rental with the broker.

3 CANCELLATION

All bookings are binding. The broker and the renter may cancel a rental. Cancellations made more than one week before the rental will be charged the deposit amount. Cancellations made within 24 hours of the time of booking, and before the rental starts, are refunded in full less the deposit amount. For cancellation after 24 hours from the time of booking, and 1 week before the rental starts, 50% of the rental amount is refunded, less the deposit amount. Cancellation after 24 hours from the time of booking, and less than 1 week before the rental starts, is charged in full. Cancellations after the rental has started are charged in full.

3.1 Cancellation of a reservation by the broker

The rental will be considered cancelled by the broker if the broker cancels it voluntarily (at its own discretion or if the vehicle is no longer available). The broker is not liable for costs incurred by the renter as a result of cancellation on the part of the broker, regardless of the reason.

The broker may cancel at any time before the pick-up time if unforeseen circumstances arise concerning the car or at the broker.

The broker also reserves the right to refuse, withdraw or restrict access for a renter if he/she excessively cancels rental requests.

3.2 Dispute about the reason for cancellation

Renters have the option to dispute the cancellation fees imposed on them, as an exception to item 3.1, if they can prove that the rental could not be carried out because:

- The broker was not able to carry out the rental (not available, wished to cancel, failure to show up at the check-in of the vehicle, etc.)
- The vehicle did not match the listing or had a safety standard
- They encounter a case of force majeure that prevents them from carrying out the rental

In the same way, the broker may challenge the reason for cancellation given by the renter.

4 PICK-UP / RETURN

By agreement. See also the agreed times stated in the completed form with information about the renter and the vehicle, which is part of this agreement.

The pick-up and return location is agreed between the parties in the specified form.

4.1 Parking on return

The renter is responsible for finding and informing the broker (either by telephone, SMS or email before the end of the rental) of a specific space or location for parking which is either free or private/prepaid by the renter within a fixed, specified area agreed between the parties in advance.

The renter has a duty to do everything to park where the broker asked him/her to do so.

Rental Agreement

If the renter does not park where the broker requests and instead parks in a paid space, all associated costs will be charged to the renter up to one (1) week after the end of the rental period.

If it is impossible for the renter at the end of the rental to park at the location the broker requests (e.g. if the specific private space is already taken by another car or the specified area is blocked for an event), the renter must contact the broker to inform him/her before check-out is done, in order to agree on a solution if possible.

Whether it is not possible to find a solution or if the broker cannot be reached, and the renter has no other parking option for the car than:

- in a paid space, the renter must inform the broker and must pay for 2 hours of paid parking (the renter shall keep the proof of payment for one month). These costs for 2 hours of parking are covered by the renter, but parking costs beyond these 2 hours are covered by the broker.
- further than a 500-metre radius from the location stated in the rental form, the renter must inform the broker.

4.2 Late return

If the vehicle is not returned within thirty (30) minutes after the agreed date and time for the rental, the broker may claim compensation for late return for the financial losses the broker incurs as a result of the delay.

5 ELECTRONIC TOLL TAGS AND OTHER TOLL AND FERRY PASSAGES

All costs associated with the use of toll roads during a rental shall be covered by the renter, such as the use of AutoPASS. If the vehicle is equipped with an electronic toll tag and the renter uses it, the amounts charged to the tag will be invoiced to the renter plus a fee of NOK 300.

Toll passages are charged in arrears. Toll passages are subject to VAT. When passing through other toll stations, our renters must, where possible, drive through the toll station in the "Manual" or "Coin" lane and pay themselves. In the event of an incorrect passage, a fee is added in addition to the passage price.

The renter is responsible for paying expenses in connection with the vehicle for ferry crossings and other similar matters and passages.

6 PARKING FINES

If the renter is issued a fine for illegal parking, this is the renter's responsibility and the fee/fine must be paid immediately. Pay particular attention to the many private parking spaces that often require payment around the clock. NB! Failure to pay a parking fine will result in a claim against the renter personally from the lessor or the owner of the vehicle. Fee, plus an additional fee of NOK 375

7 MILEAGE

The rental price includes a given number of kilometres that the renter can drive during the rental without paying extra fees («Standard mileage»), which is agreed in a separate form.

Rental Agreement

When booking, the renter can increase the standard mileage by purchasing one or more optional mileage packages. Kilometres included in the mileage package are at a predetermined price per kilometre/mile, which depends on the car's category and age. The mileage package will vary depending on the rental period.

At the end of the rental period, the broker and the renter carry out a mileage check.

In the event the number of kilometres driven exceeds the total mileage (i.e. the sum of the standard mileage and any mileage package), the renter will pay for extra mileage according to a price per extra kilometre determined by the broker.

8 FUEL

At the end of the rental period, the broker and the renter carry out a fuel check.

In the event the fuel level differs from what was stated at check-in, the broker will proceed with an adjustment; this adjustment will be made automatically by the broker without further notice to the renter.

If the renter returns the vehicle with less fuel than when the rental period began, the broker will charge the renter a fee equivalent to NOK 375 for the inconvenience of refilling the missing fuel, in addition to the cost of refuelling.

9 EXTENSION

The renter agrees to comply with the date, time and place of return agreed with the broker. Renters who wish to extend a rental that has already begun must ask the broker whether this is possible.

An extension is conditional on the written consent of the broker.

Approval of the extension request will vary according to e.g. availability.

The renter must extend the rental using the same payment method that was used to book the vehicle originally. The terms for the extended period are agreed between the parties in advance.

10 RENTER'S OBLIGATIONS AND LIABILITY

10.1. General obligations

During the rental period and until the vehicle has been returned to the broker, the renter bears all responsibility for the vehicle and its use as if he were its owner, including parking and traffic offences and the like. The renter is fully liable for all damage caused by and to the vehicle (ref. the lessor's Norwegian rental terms).

The renter is obliged to treat the vehicle in a responsible manner, and must not:

- A. Use the vehicle for driving practice.
- B. Take the vehicle out of the country without the broker's consent.
- C. Use the vehicle for illegal purposes.

- D. Hand the vehicle over to others – or let it be driven by anyone other than a driver already approved by the broker before the rental started.
- E. Use the vehicle for car racing, speed trials or competitions.
- F. Tow other vehicles.
- G. Carry more persons than the number it is registered for.
- H. Drive the rented vehicle while under the influence, whether of alcohol, narcotics, medication or other.
- I. Leave the car unlocked.
- J. Load the car with more than the vehicle is registered for.
- K. Transporting passengers for remuneration (with the exception of ride-sharing), subletting or lending the vehicle free of charge is prohibited, unless expressly approved by the broker.
- L. Must not be medically unfit to drive a car.
- M. Drift / skid the car. The cars are not intended for that kind of use.

If the renter violates any of these obligations or other similar matters not mentioned above, he is liable for any financial consequence of damage incurred, loss and additional costs. The list above is not exhaustive as to the matters for which the renter may be held liable.

10.2 Obligations in the event of damage

The renter agrees to report all damage immediately to the broker or its representative. If this is impossible, the matter shall be reported to the police. Otherwise, the renter risks being held liable for the entire damage.

This applies to any problems, breakdowns or damage related to the vehicle.

Theft, fire, vandalism, personal injury and injury to animals shall always be reported to the police and the broker.

If collision damage, damage from running off the road or the like occurs, or a technical fault arises, the broker or its insurance company may seek recourse against the renter if the renter has acted negligently or breached the obligations he has under these rental terms.

If technical faults can be rectified within a time that is reasonable in relation to the renter's needs and the rental period, the renter may not terminate the rental. Should this happen, the renter will be liable for the rent until the vehicle has been returned to the broker – however, with a deduction for the time during which the vehicle was out of order. If the rental is terminated by the renter in such cases, he is liable for the expenses the broker incurs in connection with having the vehicle brought back. If the repair cannot be carried out within the said time limit, the broker decides whether he will deliver a new vehicle to the renter for the continuation of the rental, or whether the rental shall be deemed terminated from the time the broker received notice of the matter from the renter.

The broker then arranges for the vehicle to be transported back at its own expense, and the broker is then without liability for any loss or liability that the renter may incur.

10.3 Renter's maintenance obligation

10.3.1 Oil change

The renter is obliged to ensure lubrication of the vehicle and to carry out oil changes in accordance with the broker's instructions or when this is assumed to be necessary according to the car's technical specifications.

Expenses for oil are refunded by the broker to the renter against a receipt from a petrol station/service workshop marked with the car's registration number and odometer reading.

Lubricating oil and coolant, as well as the air pressure in all wheels, shall be checked every time the vehicle is refuelled.

10.3.2 Cleaning:

The renter must pay reasonable cleaning compensation incurred by the broker as a result of lack of cleaning. The broker must document the cost incurred by the broker.

If the vehicle is not clean (the interior and/or the exterior) at the beginning of the rental, the renter shall state this in the rental contract and take pictures of the dirt. The renter must return the vehicle clean at the end of the rental period, and the pictures taken at the end of the rental period (taken by the renter or the broker) will be used for comparison with the condition at the start of the rental. In the absence of pictures taken by the renter at the beginning of the rental, the broker will be entitled to consider that all interior or exterior dirt present in the pictures taken at the end of the rental (taken by the renter or the broker) was caused by the renter during the rental period.

Merely as examples, dirt may be the following:

- Interior soiling: traces of mud on the carpet, sand, crumbs, etc.;
- Exterior soiling: dirt on the bodywork due to driving on muddy or gravel roads, etc.

Other types of excessive dirt are classified as follows, and for each level of dirt the renter shall pay compensation to the broker (the following description is only indicative and not exhaustive):

- Light dirt: the vehicle was used reasonably, but more dirt is visible at the end of the rental period. The broker can clean the car quickly without needing specific equipment or products (e.g. a pressure washer is sufficient for the exterior)
- Medium dirt: the vehicle was returned considerably dirtier at the end of the rental period. The broker must use specific equipment or products (e.g. the exterior dirt cannot be easily removed with a pressure washer), and/or spend considerable time cleaning the vehicle. For example, regarding the exterior, the vehicle was used off-road or in very dirty surroundings.
- Heavy dirt: the vehicle was misused, and the renter made no attempt to return it clean (e.g. stained seats, ingrained dirt, snus, etc.). The broker must invest considerable time and/or effort in cleaning it, and must use special equipment/professionals to clean it.

In the case of heavy dirt, if the vehicle requires professional cleaning, the renter will be charged the invoice issued by the professional cleaner.

10.3.3 Punctured tyre and broken clutch:

In the event of a punctured tyre, the renter shall pay for the replacement of the punctured tyre, plus 100% of each of the non-punctured tyres that may have to be replaced because of the punctured tyre (i.e. the replacement cost includes the price of parts and labour). If the punctured tyre is due to normal wear and tear or inadequate maintenance, or if the punctured tyre is older than 5 years, all costs (replacement of the punctured tyre and other non-punctured tyres) are paid by the broker.

In the event of a broken clutch:

The broker may charge the renter for repair costs if it can be proven that the renter's misuse of the vehicle damaged the clutch.

11 INSURANCE

11.1 General rules and conditions

Rental prices include insurance. All rentals have a deductible in the event of damage.

The renter is charged a deductible per damage incident.

The deductible is due for payment immediately (ref. the applicable Norwegian rental terms).

The insurance cover is intended to protect the broker against damage caused to the vehicle (except in cases where the insurance contract is excluded).

The renter agrees to exercise the greatest care with the vehicle and return it in the same condition as it was in when he/she took possession of it. The renter is liable for damage caused by the vehicle during the rental period, i.e. from when he/she took possession of it until it was returned. The renter alone is responsible for violations or breaches of traffic laws that may be committed with the vehicle during the rental period.

11.2 Deductible reduction

The renter can reduce the deductible for an additional charge. Without a deductible reduction, deductibles range between NOK 20,000 and NOK 50,000 depending on the car type and size. A deductible reduction must be taken out at the start of the rental where possible.

11.3 Excess cover

The renter's liability for the deductible and liability compensation under the foregoing is reduced if the renter takes out excess cover (C.D.W.) and/or (T.P.) at the start of the rental.

The renter cannot invoke such cover if this is not entered on the rental contract.

Excluded from the excess cover and the renter's deductible limitations is damage caused to the vehicle as a result of negligence, including the following:

- A. Damage caused to the car due to cargo that has shifted, or is poorly secured or packed.
- B. Burnt or cut holes, stains on seat covers, etc.
- C. Reversing without an assistant.
- D. Driving on the rims of the tyres.
- E. Damage caused by snow sliding off roofs where warning signs have been put up.
- F. Impact damage to the body/undercarriage when using snow chains.
- G. Damage resulting from driving in places that do not have physical space for the vehicle in height, width or length.

11.4 Scope of the insurance cover

The insurance covers what follows from the owner's insurance of the vehicle.

The insurance covers:

- damage to the vehicle's bodywork, fire or theft, whether committed by the renter or by a third party,
- personal injury to the renter (and when the renter is responsible for the damage)
- damage caused by a third party and the third party's vehicle (liability insurance)

The insurance cover begins and ends at the time the renter picks up or returns the vehicle (the date and time stated on the rental contract as proof).

11.5. Situations that cause exclusion or loss of insurance cover

Driver errors (such as wrong fuel, empty tank, lost/broken keys, etc.) and damage caused by gross neglect (such as vandalism of the vehicle), damage to the vehicle's interior or mechanical damage are not covered by the insurance (no deductible or deductible reduction option will apply, and the full value of the repair of the damage must be covered by the renter).

If damage is caused by abnormal use of the vehicle leading to a breakdown of the vehicle, engine failure or other non-visible damage, it is not covered by the insurance. If the broker suspects abnormal use of the vehicle, this must be documented.

If the vehicle is abandoned by the renter without the return instructions having been carried out in accordance with the conditions for return and parking, or if the renter at the end of the rental period parks the vehicle in a place where the vehicle is likely to be damaged (e.g. left in a roundabout, parked right at the exit of a construction site, etc.), the rental will not be covered by the insurance, and any damage caused to the vehicle, either during the rental or after the end of the rental (and until the broker collects the vehicle), will be charged to the renter. In addition, the renter will be charged for repair costs where applicable.

If a user through his/her actions causes the insurance cover to lapse, the user understands that he/she will be held liable for any costs incurred and for the consequences of the actions or omissions.

Rental Agreement

The renter understands that the renter becomes financially liable in all cases where the insurance does not cover damage, defects, etc. arising during the rental.

12 FINANCIAL MATTERS

12.1 The rental price

The total rental price («Rental price») paid by the renter, excluding any options for deductible reduction, includes:

- the amount paid to the broker («payout»)
- the insurance premium
- the roadside assistance premium
- the administration fee paid by the renter to the broker («the Renter's administration fee»)
- standard mileage as described below

The rental price depends on several factors, for example the rental period and the cost of insurance (which in particular depends on the car category).

Compensation fees may be incurred in addition to the rental price.

The broker may offer hourly rental or daily rental. The broker is free not to offer hourly rental, and to offer only daily rental, thereby opting out of the hourly rental option.

12.2 Compensation fee

The broker may charge a reasonable compensation fee in line with any expenses the broker has incurred in the following cases:

- Fee for smoking in a non-smoking vehicle
A compensation fee of up to NOK 2,500 for smoking in a non-smoking vehicle.
- Fee for lack of cleanliness of the car
A compensation fee applies if the exterior and/or interior of the vehicle is noticeably dirty, as stated in item 10.3.2. See also the determination of the fee in line with the lack of cleanliness mentioned in item 10.3.2.
- Fee for administration of the issuing of speeding/parking fines, unpaid parking fees: NOK 300 per incident.
The renter is urgently requested to pay fines/charges immediately.
- Fee for incorrect parking at check-out of the car
If the broker has to collect the car from a place outside the agreed location, a fee equivalent to NOK 500 is added.
- Fee for towing of the car
Should the renter have the car towed away, the fee for retrieving the vehicle, daily rent until retrieval, and an administration fee equivalent to NOK 900 are payable.

- Fee for late return

If the renter fails to return the vehicle within the first 30 minutes after the agreed return date and time, he/she is liable for the following compensation fees for late return paid to the broker:

The broker grants a tolerance for the first 30 minutes after the time originally agreed between the broker and the renter as the end of the rental period, and does not apply the late return fee during this period. Outside this tolerance, the late return fee applies from the time originally agreed between the broker and the renter as the end of the rental period, and a commenced hour is a billed hour: from one minute beyond the end of the rental period originally agreed between the broker and the renter, the hourly charge for late return will be charged to the renter.

If the vehicle has not been recovered within 3 hours, it will be reported stolen to the relevant authorities.

13 RENTER'S FINANCIAL LIABILITY

The renter's financial liability is specified in the broker's applicable Norwegian rental terms and price lists, which the renter, by his/her signature on this rental agreement, accepts as part of this rental agreement.

14 BROKER'S RESPONSIBILITY

The broker is responsible for carrying out verification of the renter's identity in connection with the rental.

When the renter does not have BankID, identity and driver's licence verification is carried out, and a credit check may be performed.

When the renter has a BankID, a choice can be made between identity verification via mobile phone or code device.

Verification of the validity of the renter's driver's licence: this is carried out via the Norwegian Public Roads Administration (Statens vegvesen) for renters with a Norwegian driver's licence. Renters who do not have a Norwegian driver's licence, but have a BankID number, must send a picture (front and back) of the driver's licence to the broker.

Credit check: The broker reserves the right to carry out a credit check to determine whether a rental agreement shall be entered into with the renter. The broker makes a discretionary assessment of whether or not the rental shall be established on the basis of the information received from the credit check company. If the renter has passed the credit check verification, he/she may book the selected vehicle. If not, the broker may refuse to allow the renter to rent vehicles on the platform until he/she has achieved a minimum creditworthiness.

At the time of the renter's first booking, the broker asks Bisnode (Bisnode Norge AS, Postboks 1419 Vika, 0115 OSLO, Organisation number: 975 374 939) to carry out a credit check verification of the renter. The credit check company may change over time.

Rental Agreement

If the renter has locked his/her credit rating on Bisnode's website, the renter must unlock it if he/she wishes to enter into the rental agreement. To unlock the credit rating, the renter must contact the credit check company.

The renter consents to the broker obtaining this information about the renter's financial situation in connection with entering into a potential rental agreement.

15 DISCLAIMER OF LIABILITY

The broker disclaims all liability towards the renter with regard to loss of time, money or anything else that may arise from, or be connected with, the rental.

Broker's liability for items left behind etc.

The broker assumes no liability for damage to or loss of property which, by the renter or another person, has been left, stored or transported in the vehicle during the rental period, or after return to the broker. The renter releases the broker from all claims that may be made against the broker due to such loss or damage.

16 PERSONAL DATA

The broker is responsible for the processing of the renter's personal data collected through the use of the rental service. This means that the broker is in particular responsible for the collection, security and use of the personal data for the purposes the broker describes in this agreement.

17 MISCELLANEOUS

The broker is only an intermediary between the renter and the owner of the car. The renter is directly liable for any financial and non-financial damage resulting from the rental that the owner and/or its insurer put forward. In no case is the broker liable for damages to the renter.

If a clause in the terms should prove to be invalid or infringing, this agreement will continue to apply with all provisions, except for any clause found to be invalid or infringing, as long as this is possible without these provisions.

In the event of ambiguities and disputes, this agreement shall be taken as the starting point. In the event of contradictions, ambiguities and other matters, the content of this agreement shall take precedence over the Norwegian rental terms and other relevant legislation.

18 DISPUTE RESOLUTION

In the event of a dispute about the interpretation or performance of this agreement, the parties undertake to first seek an amicable solution.

Any user who is a private consumer in Norway may, if necessary, complain about the broker's services on the dispute resolution platform of the Norwegian Consumer Council (Forbrukerrådet).

The Consumer Council will forward your complaint to the relevant national mediators. In accordance with the rules applicable to mediation, the renter must, before requesting mediation, have informed the broker in writing in advance of a dispute in order to reach an amicable solution
